Chickasha Public School Foundation helps locally

To aid the 2,300 students in the Chickasha school district annually with vital school supplies, First National Bank's Vice President Beverly White presents Jen Jantzen from the Chickasha Public School Foundation with a $1,500 donation on Oct. 16. The CPSF is an independent community-based nonprofit organization that provides funding and support that cannot be afforded through the district's budget. They currently provide necessary school supplies, have grants for teachers to get items needed for classrooms, endowed scholarships and an endowed lecture series. The donation from FNBT ensures, CPSF is able to continue with its mission of aiding local students in graduating with a quality education.
