First National Bank donates to Senior Citizen Center

Representing the Blanchard Senior Citizens Center, Robert Adamson and Susan Hall accepted a donation of $7,000 from First National Bank Board Chairman Pat Brooks, Bank Manager Pam Moorehead and Senior Vice President Moe Armstrong on Sept. 30.

“Approximately 30 meals are served at the center each day as well as 25 meals delivered outside to seniors,” Armstrong said. “We want to help our community by donating to the Blanchard Senior Citizen Center. It allows them to continue to provide needed meals to the seniors and continue their progress on the renovations of the facility.”

Adamson and Hall both explained the future plans on re-modeling the center with items that will meet the needs of seniors. The donation will be used to purchase furniture, a commercial stove, blood pressure machines and general items.

“They were ecstatic,” Moorehead said. “Moe visited with Jean Berry from the Senior Citizens Center the following week; she reiterated how excited and appreciative the group was to receive the donation from First National Bank.”
