Cyril cowboy gala celebrates Keith Coleman

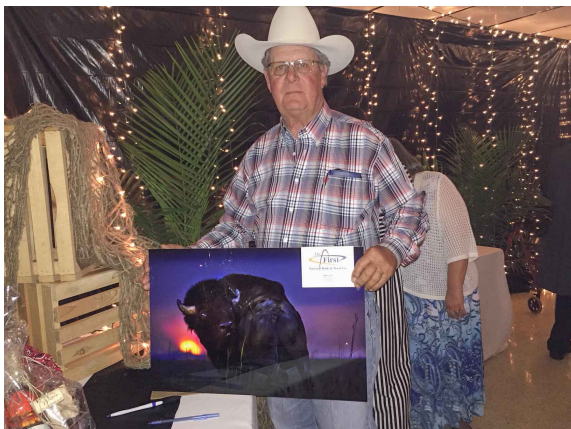

Cyril resident J. Mack Bohn purchased an award-winning photograph by Steve Booker in a fundraising event to aid the Cyril Historical Society. The Keith Coleman Cowboy Gala was held in Cyril on March 24.

The gala, hosted by the Cyril Historical Society and FNBT, celebrated the local country music legend, Keith Coleman. Guest cowboy poets Jay Snider and Randy Cocheran along with musician Joe Settlemires spotlighted the event.

“The night was wonderful,” Teller Cindy Mitchell said. “The event was packed, and all proceeds from the event help to preserve the local Heritage House and Historical Society Museum.”

Bohn’s new photo was taken by Steve Booker, and placed in FNBT’s 2017-2018 Photography Calendar Competition. Booker’s work has spread to thousands of customers as a result of the contest.

“I am working to find the best area in my house to display the photo,” Bohn said. “It may need special lighting so that every little detail can be seen.”

Silent auction winner J Mack Bohn out bids Gala attendees on March 24 for Steve Booker’s calendar contest winning Buffalo photograph, donated by First National Bank.
