Tuttle Scouts earn Finance Merit Badge

In order to earn a Personal Management Merit Badge, Boy Scouts of America Troop #4338 invited First National Bank Vice President Ann Manchester to speak at it's Sept. 18 meeting at the Community Center in Tuttle. Manchester explained how credit reports are created and provided advice to the boys that they could use today, which will help to ensure a higher credit rating when they apply for car or mortgage loans as adults. In addition, the boys' parents were encouraged to take notes on ways they can protect not only their sons but also themselves from identity theft. "We need to be focused on being financially responsible today for a more financially secure future," Manchester said.
